

BOYD MIDDIES IN QUEST OF FAME ON ALIEN BATTLEFIELD

Boys Left In Norway Are Going to Ecuador
to Fight.

cadet who went to South America and fought a few revolutions.

Hoped to Be Reinstated.

Holmes and Clifford—the former is a Mississippi and the latter from West Roxbury, Mass.—had high hopes of reinstatement in the Academy up to a short time ago. Intimation by the President that he did not look with favor upon a proposed bill providing for their readmission dashed their hopes and brought about their determination to go fight for another country if this Government is so resolved not to avail itself of their martial services.

The bill providing for reinstatement is in the hands of a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, and is said to have been reported favorably.
Owing to the considerable Congressional influence which both men, but particularly Clifford, can exert, the bill is said to have stood a good chance of passing, though likely to meet with an ax at the White House. It is declared by Congressional backers of Clifford that his early southward will not help his chances of having the bill passed, but as Clifford and Holmes apparently have decided to burn their bridges behind them, they will not care much if their invasion of South America prejudices the passage of the reinstatement bill.

Both Holmes and Clifford have been in Washington for weeks. They are well acquainted here, and have told many friends about the time they got lost in Norway. One of them narrated part of the affair as follows:

"After we had proceeded to the rendevous we found only scenery there, and it became evident that we were abandoned."

"After some hours of vain waiting we became tired and went to sleep in a sort of hut. It was broad daylight when we went to sleep and it was broad daylight when we awoke. We did not realize at the time that it was the land of the midnight sun."

They Sought Food.

"Naturally we were hungry when we arose. We sought a human habitation and we came upon a young woman, a Norwegian, who was a sister, and armed with an axe, she sought to address her with respect, but feared she would not understand us.

"To her in the sign language," "suggested at this time the young woman, and said in plain language: 'Want a job of chopping wood? It appears as if you are here in the United States.'"

"Clifford and Holmes insist that after ling the railroad they walked to the nearest town, and that they found the officer left for them, and not that they found them, as the officer asserts. They were put on board ship, a sort of coasting vessel, and taken to join their man-of-war. But while on the coasting vessel the twain were separated. Holmes was locked up in the fore-castle and Clifford kept on deck, that the two might communicate with one another, and compare notes as to what stories they would tell, and what explanation give of the way they came to get lost.

The two youths were brought back to this country last summer, put under officers' arrest at Annapolis, and dismissed by Commandant Gibbons last September.

Since leaving Washington they have written here several times. The last communication known to have been received from them is from Savannah, Ga.

The communication is a post card bearing the picture of a soldier fighting.
The card bears these words written by one of the two: "We don't know where we're going, but we're on our way."

Croggon Rites to Be Held In Prayer Room

Funeral services for John R. Croggon, who died suddenly in the Foundry M. E. Church, last Tuesday, will be held in the prayer room of the church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Croggon was born in Washington in 1844. He was employed as a clerk in the Treasury Department.
Mr. Croggon was private secretary of F. E. Spinner, United States Treasurer in President Grant's Cabinet. He was unusually proficient as a stenographer.

Besides his wife, Mr. Croggon is survived by a son, E. R. S. Croggon, a brother, James Croggon, veteran newspaper man of Washington, and two sisters, Mrs. R. G. Langley, of Trenton, N. J., and Mrs. E. V. Welsh, of Pelham, N. Y.

INCREASE WEIGHT QUICKLY

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.

Samose can hardly be termed a medicine. It is in reality a flesh forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sunken complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

Use Samose for a month and all the flesh of the body will be firm and solid, and the outlines beautiful and symmetrical.

With the return of good health following the use of Samose, emaciation is overcome, and the thin and scrawny are once more plump and rosy.
Jas. O'Donnell's customers have told him of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh forming food, and he is so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You who are thin and in poor health cannot afford to let another day pass without getting a box of Samose on those terms.
